

Thamnophis Gigas

Pacific Southwest Region USFWS

Card design by anonymous author, CCO. Image author and license shown above.

This creature cannot attack.

Activate when this in-play card is destroyed. Target up to 1 card in play. Place 1 damage counter on each target; you can remove a damage counter from a card at any time to roll a six-sided die and inflict damage to it equal to the result.

1

3

5

The giant garter snake is the largest species of garter snake, reaching lengths of up to 165 centimeters. Despite its size, it is mostly harmless.

Boiga Cyanea

Sp. herp

Card design by anonymous author, CCO. Image author and license shown above.

This creature cannot attack or defend.

Activate in response to an opponent's attack. Target up to 1 card in the current chain. Place 1 damage counter on each target; you can remove a damage counter from a card at any time to roll a six-sided die and inflict damage to it equal to 0

2

7

This species of cat-eyed snake does not usually bite unless provoked.

Crotalus Horridus

Tad Arensmeier

Card design by anonymous author, CCO. Image author and license shown above.

You must destroy 2 of your cards in play to summon this creature.

Activate in response to an opponent's attack. Target up to 1 card in the current chain. Place 1 damage counter on each target; you can remove a damage counter from a card at any time to roll a six-sided die and inflict damage to it equal to the result.

2

4

10

The timber rattlesnake is large and has especially potent venom, but it rarely kills due to its own reluctance.

Naja Naja

Card design by anonymous author, CCO. Image author and license shown above.

You must destroy 2 of your cards in play to summon this creature.

Target up to 1 card in play. Place 1 damage counter on each target; you can remove a damage counter from a card at any time to roll a six-sided die and inflict damage to it equal to the result.

2

6

10

The revered indian cobra is one of the four snake species most responsible for deaths by snake bite in South Asia.

Call Their Bluff

Card design by anonymous author, CCO. Image author and license shown above.

Activate in response to an opponent's card effect. You may re-roll up to 2 dice in the current chain up to 2 times each.

4

I'll see that bet, and I'll re-raise...

Lying In Wait

Bauer, Erwin and Peggy, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service

Card design by anonymous author, CCO. Image author and license shown above.

Activate in response to an opponent's attack. You may re-roll up to 6 dice in the current chain up to 1 time each.

6

Waiting for the approach of your attacker from an advantageous position can greatly increase your odds of survival.

Snake's Mealtime

Brian Gratwicke

Card design by anonymous author, CCO. Image author and license shown above.

Exhaust 1 of your unexhausted creatures in play. Target up to 3 cards in play with at least 2 counters. Destroy all targets.

6

After injecting it with venom to weaken or kill it, most snakes swallow their prey whole.

Guerilla Warfare

Nahal08

Card design by anonymous author, CCO. Image author and license shown above.

Target up to 1 resource. Reveal all targets, then summon or cast any number of targets that are not in play (paying the usual costs).

3

When the citizenry is enough in opposition to an invasion force, they will take arms and rise against them.